Figure S1. Information on the calibration of the models. The baseline variables that differed significantly between patients with and without atrial fibrillation recurrence, such as time from diagnosis to ablation and left atrial diameter, were included in the established model. Right inferior pulmonary vein cross-sectional area (RIPV-CSA), major diameter (D), and minor D were added to this model as continuous variables. CI: confidence interval.